HELPFUL TIPS FOR AWESOME ATTENDANCE

- Remind your child that school is their first and most important job! Tardies, late arrivals, and early release times matter!
- Communicate the importance of regular school attendance to your child so they are hearing the same thing we are saying at school.
- Try to start your child's day 15 minutes earlier.
- If your child has a doctor/ dentist appointment, they can still get credit for the day if they attend at least some of the day. You can bring them before or after their appointment with the note from the doctor.
- Help your child be an attendance H.E.R.O.; Here Everyday Ready and On time!

Your partner in lifelong learning,

ATTENDANCE MATTERS.
 ALL DAY. EVERY DAY

Do the Math:

$K + 12 = 13$  yrs. of school
 Missing just 1.5 days per month
 $X 9$  months in a year = 13.5 days
 $13.5 \text{ day} X 13 \text{ years} = 175.5 \text{ days} =$
 Almost 1 whole year of school

1st bell rings at 7:25
 Students should be in their seats ready to learn when the second bell rings at 7:30 am.

From the Parent Liaison: 375-8804 or cpuig@scv35.org

Why is it important for parents to volunteer? First, it shows your children that you have an interest in their education. It tells them that school is important to you. It's not just a place you drop them off every day. It's a part of their world that you want to be a part of, too. Second, there are dozens of research articles that prove the more a parent is involved in their child's education, the more the child benefits. The child tends to have better grades and fewer discipline problems. Again, this goes back to the fact that if the child sees how education is important to you, it becomes more important to the child. Finally, your volunteering will make your child proud.

"No matter the age of your child – elementary, middle school, or even high school – it's never too late to get involved."
